You are invited to a talk by the Manx Geological Survey
at the Manx Museum on Friday 15 November at 19.15

500 Million Years of Climate Change on the Isle of Man

by Dr David G. Quirk

As attention turns to COP29 in Baku, what can we learn about past climates at home?

Join us for an hour's journey through the changing temperatures, fluctuating sea-levels, biodiversity crises and tectonic movements which are recorded in the rocks of our Island.

Global CO_2 - Berner & Kothavala, 2001
Global temperature – Wing & Huber, 2019

Manx Geological Survey
Creegarey oayl-thalloain Vannin